Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 14 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with rain, sleet and snow slow to clear.

Today:
Rain, sleet and snow will slowly clear eastwards through the day today, turning dry by mid-afternoon in the west but remaining rather cloudy. Wet weather holding on in the east until the evening.

Tonight:
The remaining rain, sleet and snow will clear the far east through the first part of the night, with skies slowly clearing behind, leading to a cold night.

Friday:
A cold start tomorrow, with fog patches in the south which may be slow to clear. Otherwise a fine and dry day with largely sunny skies, but feeling cold.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Further rain, sleet and snow arriving from the west on Saturday, persisting through the day, drier on Sunday with the odd shower in the north. Likely wet again on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.